YBhg. Dato',

Data Sharing between Regulatory Bodies and Industry

Reference to the briefing given by the Chemical Productivity Nexus team (CPN) recently, we are delighted to hear that Jabatan Pengangkutan Jalan (JPJ) would be able to share their database directly with the industry.

Save for publicly available information, BASF (Malaysia) Sdn Bhd supports this Government's initiative that can and will promote not only transport safety and security but will also ensure regulatory compliance.

We are keen to partake in this data integration pilot programme organised by the Malaysia Productivity Corporation (MPC), under Ministry of International Trade & Industry (MITI). We are now in the process of discussing with the industry's e-Roads operator to populate our drivers and vehicles data into the system, which should enable us to link and interface with the Government's portal directly.

We look forward to hearing from you soon. Thank you in anticipation.

Yours Sincerely,

VIMALA ARUMUGAM

Re : Data Integration Pilot Project between Regulatory Bodies and the Chemical Industry

We are currently a user of the industry e-Roads system and would like to participate in this pilot data integration programme through the e-Roads system. The system would not entail any additional work from your end, nor disrupt the current operation in any way.

Synthomer Sdn Bhd supports this Government's initiative in promoting transport safety and security through regulatory compliances.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thank you in anticipation.
