HRD Corp (for Malaysian participants only)

- The Human Resource Development Corporation (HRD Corp), previously known as the Human Resources Development Fund (HRDF), is a statutory agency under the Ministry of Human Resources Malaysia. Established in 2001 under the Pembangunan Sumber Manusia Berhad Act 2001 (PSMB Act 2001), HRD Corp plays a key role in advancing Malaysia human capital development. Its core functions include collecting levies from registered employers and financing training and development initiatives to improve the skills and capabilities of the Malaysian workforce.
- MJS 2025 has been approved as an HRD Corp-claimable programme, which allows eligible employers—those registered with and contributing to HRD Corp—to submit claims for reimbursement, in accordance with the terms and conditions set by HRD Corp.
